

Injunction Awaited In Steel Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UPI)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell and two other key cabinet members visited the White House today amid possibilities that President Eisenhower might be preparing to use his Taft-Hartley powers to stop the 87-day steel strike.

Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller were the other two presidential advisers who turned up at the White House shortly before 9 a.m.

No announcement was made as to the purpose of their call or with whom they conferred. None had been on the President's formally-announced cabinet list. There has been expectation that Eisenhower would invoke his Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike to open the way for the government to obtain an 80-day back-to-work injunction.

The White House was noncommittal when Eisenhower returned yesterday from an eight-day vacation in California. Before the trip, he had said that he wanted the steel union and industry to be making progress toward a settlement by the time he got back.

Working Behind Scenes
Government officials have been working behind the scenes to settle the strike without resorting to the Taft-Hartley Act. But both industry and union leaders anticipated that the President would soon invoke emergency provisions of the law to get the back-to-work injunction tent would be good for 90 days.

Mediation Attempt
Tried Mitchell met yesterday in New York City with steelworkers' union President David J. McDonald in an apparent mediation effort. A labor department spokesman declined to say whether Mitchell was acting as a go-between in hopes of getting agreement on a contract that would send 100,000 steelworkers back to the mills.

Negotiations between top executives of five leading steel companies and the union collapsed Tuesday night. No joint meetings have been held since then.

Sophomores Plan Saturday Eve 'Jamboree' As First Activity

"Sophomore Jamboree" is the name set for the first sophomore class party of the year, which will take place Saturday evening in the Smith Family Living Center.

Time for the occasion has been set for 9:30 p.m. in order to avoid conflicting with the general Priesthood session. The social will continue until 11:30 p.m.

SOPHOMORE class vice president Dennis Taylor reports that the party "he" been scheduled especially for the purpose of promoting class spirit.

He asks class members to abolish all geographic boundaries which have separated them, and advises them to "Remember that no matter where they are from that they are still sophomores."

SINCE THIS is the first activity scheduled for the class, it will give members a chance to renew old acquaintances and to make new ones. During the evening, all sophomore class officers will be introduced to those present.

Musical dancing will be furnished by the "V Knight's."

TAYLOR ALSO informs sophomores that appropriate dress for the occasion will be shirts and slacks. Stags are encouraged to turn in by 10:30 p.m.

Priesthood Session Broadcast Slated Saturday in Fieldhouse

Saturday night a broadcast of the General Priesthood meeting of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be heard in the Smith Fieldhouse.

"Very few of our Priesthood members can actually get into the Salt Lake Tabernacle for this meeting," says Fred Schwendiman, BYU stake clerk, "but we will set up the fieldhouse in such a way that everyone desiring to attend will be able to do so."

Contrary to announcements in some of the wards last Sunday, this broadcast will not be televised. It will be a direct telephone line, radio type broadcast.

Fieldhouses would open at 6 p.m. Saturday. Organ music to precede the service will begin at 6:45 p.m., and the Priesthood meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

Schwendiman observes, "Every year it seems that the other stakes visiting with us have many more in attendance than the BYU Stake." He urged attendance by all priesthood members of the stake, pointing out that the meeting will be over by 9 p.m., leaving plenty of time afterwards for a date.

Macmillan Retains Office.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative Party won Britain's general election in an apparent landslide over the Laborites early today and were returned to power for another five years.

Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell conceded the race for control of the House of Commons just before 1 a.m., less than four hours after the polls closed with a record turnout estimated at 29 million voters. The Conservatives took an early lead, winning top "marginal" constituencies, and never were headed.

"I MUST CONCEDE victory to our opponents," Gaitskell said to a TV audience. He looked glum as he spoke.

Macmillan, who will continue his friendly relations with President Eisenhower in forthcoming East-West negotiations and the expected summit conference, issued a restrained victory statement.

"ALL THE RESULTS are not yet in, but so far they certainly seem satisfactory," he said.

Labor Party Secretary Morgan Phillips predicted the Conservatives would win the election.

Students of the Brigham Young University Monday will choose a queen for alumni to come home to.

Voting booths will be situated in various buildings on campus. Voting is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Competing for Homecoming Queen honors are five winsome finalists—Gwen Newton, Hawaiian Club; Diane Stirling, Knight-Mangum Hall; Sherry Hale, Carmi Lee Carolyn Avery, Intercollegiate Knights; Ship Hall, Val Norn; Lynn Fescher, Viking.

The three candidates who receive the most votes in Monday's election will become the royal trio—a queen and two attendants.

Analyst Set For Monday Forum Talk

Howard Pierce Davis, noted world affairs analyst, will be the featured speaker at Monday's forum assembly. The topic of his speech will be "Things that Matter."

Davis is a New Englander by birth and has ancestral roots in New England which date back through three centuries. He was educated in New England at Wesleyan University.

Howard Pierce Davis . . . to speak at Monday assembly.

AFTER SERVING with the American Expeditionary Force in France for two years during World War I, he entered the Christian ministry, receiving ordination in 1925.

After serving two New England churches, he became headmaster of a Maine preparatory school, where he remained for five years.

HIS INTEREST in world affairs lured him to Europe in the summer of 1931 where he has haunted the headquarters of Adolf Hitler in Munich. That experience was the beginning of an on-the-spot study of the growing Nazi movement.

His time became devoted to the study of the critical events which unfolded from Hitler's accession to power in 1933 to the world explosion of 1939.

IT WAS NATURAL, that Davis should become an authority on the techniques of totalitarianism; its causes and patterns of development. It was likewise natural that he should turn to writing and lecturing. His bi-monthly publication, "World Observer" acquired nationwide circulation and became required reading in many colleges.

Dodgers Crush Chicago, Become World Champs

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers made it all the way back from nowhere to the championship of the baseball world Thursday and buried the 48-year dream of the Chicago White Sox deep in the infield dust at Comiskey Park.

They won the sixth game of the World Series, 9-3, to take the championship to the West Coast for the first time in history. And they did it with a defiance typical of the old days in Brooklyn—a wild, weird and woolly 41-minute third inning in which they scored six runs and the White Sox rallied for three.

BYE YOUNG Larry Sherry, a youngster they derrick out of the bushes to spearhead their late drive from seventh place to a playoff National League victory, took it from there.

Sherry had muted those White Sox bats in three previous relief efforts—winning one game in the process—and today he came on with one out in that frenzied fourth and shut them off again for his second triumph.

THE DODGERS began to polish off the greatest comeback in baseball history when Duke Snider, one of the old Flatbush heroes, blasted a 420-foot home into the left centerfield stands with one aboard in the third.

Then they wrapped it up in that fabulous fourth, hanging the loss on meaty Eddy Yarn.

although he had departed from the game by the time Wally Moon snashed a two-run homer in a six-run barrage. The White Sox tried to get them back in their half, massive Ted Kluszewski walloping a three-run homer.

But Sherry took over then for starter Johnny Podres and closed them out after the Sox had loaded the bases. He pitched shutout ball through 4 2/3 tense innings in which he allowed only three hits.

'Clod Hoppers' Set For Anti-Footballers

The "Clod Hop," student-body dance sponsored by the Central Dance Area Committee, will be held Friday in the Smith Fieldhouse starting at 8:30 p.m., said Jeff Madson, chairman of the committee.

Decorations will be in the motif of Sadie Hawkins day. The dance, however, is stag or drag. Duke's combo and his boys will provide the "stompin' music."

Dress will be sport. Tickets can be bought at the door for 45 cents.

There will be entertainment and refreshments. Students are urged to exchange partners during the dance with other "clod hoppers" and meet as many as possible.

Sports Editor Replies

Going right to the top, an avid fan recently dropped this corner a letter, airing his views on the recent Montana game, in particular, and BYU football in general.

Finding it extremely difficult to keep from throwing the letter in a convenient receptacle, I decided to give the studentbody a chance to read the man's views.

The following is the slightly expurgated version of the letter, together with remarks from ye ol' editor:

Dear Editor,
"Many times during the last few weeks I have heard mention of the BYU football team. If BYU has a football team, I would like to see it. . . I think that statement is the biggest mis-statement of the year. . .

"From what I had heard or read about the BYU crew of late I thought I would be able to see them win a few games, for a change." (Ed. Note—Starting tonight the Cats might start a seven-game winning streak. Even finishing with a 7-3 record, they would have the best mark since 1932.)

DISGRACE AND DISGUST

"Letting themselves get walked all over and tropped in the ground by Montana, a team which had lost the last 15 games in a row, in this game is disgraceful and totally disgusting." (Ed. Note—Come sir, the present Grizzly squad had only lost two in a row. You must realize that 23 of the 38 Silvertips were sophomores who lost in high school in 1957 when MSU won its last game.) " . . . Maybe they could have a little better luck against some of the high schools of the state."

"But I'd almost bet that some little school like Tabiona . . . could probably beat the BYU gang. Oops, I'm sorry! I shouldn't have called the BYU bunch a 'gang,' because a gang works together and can usually do the same thing twice. But the BYU bunch can't seem to do anything the same twice. (Ed. Note—Except maybe bounce back and take the Utes for the second straight year.)

"This home game seemed to be pretty much a repeat performance of the games I usually saw during my college days at the Y." (Ed. Note—Oh, you went here, too.) "However, in most of those games the BYU team, even under Coach Chick Atkinson, would usually score at least a few days at the Y." (Ed. Note—Oh, you went here, too.) "How manage to score in every contest. He was shutout 10 times in his tenure." It is rather disappointing to see (or hear radio broadcasts of) a team that is always losing football games. (Ed. Note—Perhaps you should root for UTA's number one team every fall.) Is BYU to be conference doornut again?"

TALLY HO, EH ALUM?

"Granted BYU may have a football team, but if that's the case the big problem is the coaching—or lack of it. (Ed. Note—If I didn't know better, I'd bet you were head-hunting after only three games, when you yourself managed to give Atkinson six seasons. Personally, I'd rather give one of the better coaches in the league two seasons to integrate his system and take advantage of his excellent recruiting program, how about you?)

" . . . If only BYU could get someone for a coach besides a high school coach . . . wonder why the BYU can't consistently get good coaches with suitable previous college experience. (Ed. Note—It's common practice to give a head coaching job to a former assistant—take for example Army, Utah State, Arizona to name recent coaching appointments. Why not one of the most promising young men in the field, Tally Stevens?)

"One thing the head coach should do is wake the team up before the football game starts. . . (Ed. Note—Granting this is true, how would you prepare a team psychologically to face such a team like Montana, which even the players know they should have beaten by 30-40 points? Knute Rockne might have had trouble.)

"I could write a lot more, but I don't suppose it will do any good. (Ed. Note—You've got a tough profession, former Montana head coach, plentiful even in BYU territory)." . . signed, Clyde E. Rodebach

I'm sure I speak for the studentbody and the majority of true BYU fans when I say that I hope the Cougars find themselves and prove to Coach Stevens, alumni and mostly themselves that they are a good team. Thanks for the material anyway, Mr. Rodebach.

Doctor Claims Wives Cause Heart Trouble

HOLLYWOOD—(UPI)—Dr. Frank G. Nolan, noted heart specialist, believes that "nagging wives" may be responsible for a good deal of heart disease among men—their husbands, that is.

Nolan, who is president of the Marine Heart Research Foundation and who has gone on excursions in the Pacific Ocean to test the hearts of whales, cited the case of a male patient of whom he was taking a cardiogram.

"HIS WIFE happened to walk into the room," Nolan related, "and the needle jumped. I wonder if nagging wives are not to blame for much of the heart disease among men? After all, many more men than women die of coronary heart disease. This is something to think about seriously."

Nolan said he did not believe all women provoked tensions in their husbands.

Be Careful, Courteous

If traffic accidents happened only to those who anticipated them, the National Safety Council and a majority of the automobile insurance firms would be out of business. But such isn't the case.

Drivers and passengers go skimming along the highways and don't worry themselves, because accidents always happen to other people. And hundreds of times each day police cars and ambulances go screaming up to piles of twisted steel and mangled bodies—where "somebody else" has had an accident.

With the tremendous numbers of persons going to the conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, plus the fleet of student cars going to the BYU-Utah game, the highways are going to be jammed "with other people." So why don't YOU take it a little bit easy. Take a little more time. Get there with a little more ease and a few less frazzled nerves.

Remember, don't just be careful, be courteous.

Pugmire served as director for the first Internountain Professional Photography School held at Brigham Young University the last week of August.

Taft-Hartley Injunction...

Longshoremens Sent Back to Work

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (UPI) — The government, acting swiftly at the behest of President Eisenhower, obtained a Taft-Hartley injunction tonight that ended an eight-day strike of 85,000 Longshoremens on the East and Gulf Coast Ports.

The International Longshoremens Association (ILA) immediately ordered Longshoremens from Maine to Texas to report back to work tomorrow morning at piers jammed with tons of cargo.

THE ILA opposed the injunction issued by Federal Judge Irving Kaufman but told him that it would be complied with. Telegrams were sent to all local officers. New York dock workers were told to be on the job at 8 a.m. EDT.

The injunction, issued at near-record speed, halted the strike for an 80-day "cooling off" period. President Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley law Tuesday.

IT WAS ONE of the swiftest injunction proceedings in the 12-year history of the Taft-Hartley act, equalling the Government's speed in halting a 1956 ILA strike.

Quickest Route To Ute Stadium Given for Fans

Provo football fans who are going to the University of Utah-Brigham Young University game Friday may save time getting to Salt Lake City by following this suggested route:

PROVO FANS should go east on Twenty-first South to Twenty-first East and then north to the stadium.

The trip from downtown Salt Lake City to the Utah stadium the night of the game will take at least one-half hour, and fans who want to be seated for the 8 p.m. kickoff will have to allow plenty of time to reach the stadium, park, pass through the gate and find their seats.

George C. Doub, head of the Justice Department's Civil Division, flew here from Washington and immediately appeared before Kaufman to ask the injunction.

DOUB TOLD Kaufman that the President wanted the injunction because of the strike's "urgent and critical impact" on the nation's economy. If permitted to continue, he said, the situation would paralyze shipping on the East and Gulf coasts and deprive the nation of imports vital to the defense program.

We're losing money on our free estimates . . . they now cost five dollars.

We're only bidding, of course, estimates on work never cost you a penny more. Actually, they're our business builder, since they show off our skill and our workmanship is expert.

Register Now For Directory Listing

Approximately 100 students failed to fill out their student directory cards and also did not make corrections at White Key booths this week.

According to Glenn C. Davis, faculty adviser of the directory project, students may still make corrections by making contact today with Dana Prosser, basement of Maeser Bldg. A complete directory card must be filled out.

Sign for Preference Ball

Sign-up sheet for prospective Preference Ball workers will be posted Monday on the bulletin board in the basement of Clark Student Service Center. Positions open are for persons interested in helping in any way, reported Lannie Berrett, who is in charge of the AWS-sponsored dance.

She particularly invited men and women students who are interested in doing stage crew work, such as building sets and doing lighting, to sign the list.

Rockettes Tryout

Tryouts for the Rockettes, a precision dance group, will be held Tuesday between 5 and 6 p.m. at the McQuivey House, 716 East 1439 North, according to Jane Thompson, head of the group. Miss Thompson reports that she would like girls with previous experience, if possible.

Help to Process Cards

The Studentbody Participation Committee needs 10 workers to aid in processing student interest cards. Anyone who can help should go to the student coordinator's office in the basement of Clark Student Service Center as soon as possible, according to Raleigh Johnson.

Adults Register Monday

Monday at 7:30 p.m., registration will be held for free, non-credit classes from the Provo City Adult Education Program, in the Provo High School Cafeteria.

Classes will meet once or twice a week for 10 weeks. Some of the classes to be offered include beginning and advanced sewing, typing, interior decorating, cake decorating and sketching the family food dollar.

Porter Keynote Speaker

Dr. Blaine M. Porter, chairman of the Department of Human Development and Family Relationships at Brigham Young University, will give the keynote address at a conference on child development, Friday, at Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa.

The conference will mark the 35th anniversary of the Department of Child Development at Iowa State University.

"BITE THE HAND"

Edmund Burke first noted that some men will bite "The hand that fed them". But Mark Twain, in "Pudd'nhead Wilson", refined the observation and made it biting:

"If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between a dog and a man."

"PRAISE THE LORD AND ETC."

Perhaps the most popular remark to come out of World War II is this exhortation made at Pearl Harbor by U. S. Comm. Howell M. Fargy, a Navy chaplain:

"Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition."

"IGNORANCE IS BLISS"

It was Thomas O'ray who coined this comforting generalization in behalf of all "D" students. See his "On a Distort Prospect of Elton College":

"...where ignorance is bliss,
'Tis folly to be wise."

Jockey® SKANTS' striped brief

"Merely sensational"—that's the judgment of college men who have seen the new Jockey Striped SKANTS. Jockey stylists have taken their own original 100% stretch nylon bikini-style brief (already a national favorite)...added candy stripes...and produced a garment you'll really enjoy wearing.

SKANTS is cut high on the sides with a low waistband and comes in choice of red, black, green, rust or blue stripes. Look for SKANTS—in stripes, or solids—in the Jockey department at your campus store.

Big Game...

Rivals Clash Tonight

by Bill Charles
Universe Sports Writer

Coch Stevens will bring a team on the field Friday night, hopeful, once again, of starting a successful season.

The Cougars and Coach Ray Nagel's Redskins will tangle tonight before a large crowd at the Ute Stadium in Salt Lake City. Game time is posted at 8 p.m.

WHEN THESE two rivals meet on the gridiron, the entire season is at stake. Victory or defeat in this game usually determines the success of the season. Even more so is this true tonight. The winner of this annual struggle should pick himself up from the mediocre beginning this fall and be able to finish strong in the remaining conference games. The loser of this classic will undoubtedly be destined to a long bruising season.

This encounter will mark the 35th meeting of these arch-rivals. The series began in 1922. It was in that year that BYU suffered their worst setback at the hands of the Indians, to the tune of 40-0. The Redskins have overwhelmingly dominated the series with 23 victories, while the Brigham have come on top twice. Four of these battles have ended in ties.

SOME FANS have voiced an opinion that this contest could end in a scoreless deadlock. For the information of the disbelievers, it has happened previously. These same two schools played an endless battle in 1928. The Cougar victories came in 1942, 1947 and last fall in a toe to toe thriller, 14-7.

The Utes have not played a conference game as yet, testing their strength with two games out on the Pacific Coast. They opened the season by falling before Oregon, 21-6 and last week they were buried by the University of Washington, 51-6.

COACH NAGEL'S squad has shown many weaknesses in their defense, but he feels that with the return of his injured starting linebackers, Dennis Zito and Larry Wilson, that his club will be much improved. If the boys from Uteville can get fired up, they will come out prepared to scalp the big Cat and should come up with their best offensive showing of the current season Friday night.

Coch Stevens will field a more hefty, more experienced and a more highly-touted squad as of the beginning of the season.

But this can all be thrown high in the air in this renewal.

THE CATS must recover their sharpness and spirit before Friday night if they are to finally live up to their pre-season press notices and the dreams and hopes of Cougarville. Defensively, the Cougars have left much to be desired. Since the new system was installed last Spring, the well balanced and torrid offensive machine has yet to materialize.

After losing to Fresno State, 27-16; Montana last week, 12-0; and winning a squeaker in the opener over Arizona, 18-14, the coaching staff at the "V" has many holes to plug, plus many plays to polish before the Cats can successfully compete in this year's tough Skyline Conference race.

WITH BOTH Nyle McFarlane and Keith Hubbs out with injuries, the Cougars are hurting in the tailback slot. Hubbs is their leader in total offense with 203 yards garnered in rushing and passing in 3 games.

BYU will be able to present one of the conference leaders in punting with Gary Dunn's 42.2

average. Utah will counter with a good passing attack featuring Ken Vierra at quarterback, who has completed 40% of his tosses.
